Kappa Delta Pi Record, Volume 34 Index

Authors and Articles

Advocate for public education: Agnes E. Meyer. 34(2): 64.

Barron, A. E., and K. S. Ivers. New classrooms without walls. 34(4): 152–54.

Boone, W. J. Interactive distance education technology in classrooms. 34(1): 14–16.

Boyd, P.C., and S. B. Cooper. Communication in the mathematics classroom. 34(3): 102–5.

Bray, S., and C. Roellke. The evidence on year-round education. 34(3): 84–88.

Carroll, M. K. Motivating secondary teacher-preparation students. 34(3): 114–18.

Cizek, G. J. The assessment revolution's unfinished business. 34(4): 144–49.

Conderman, G. How are we practicing inclusion? 34(2): 52–55.

Conderman, G., R. E. Hatcher, and P. A. Ikan. Why student-led conferences work. 34(4): 132–34.

Cooley, V. E., and R. J. Reitz. Lessons learned in creating a program. 34(1): 4–9.

Cooper, M. J., and R. Ringlaben. Caring as an essential element for inclusion. 34(2): 56–59.

Cooper, S. B. See Boyd

Corbett, T. A year-round success story in Vincent. 34(3): 92–93.

Cozza, B. See Goldsby

Donaldson, E. R. Canadian diversity and continuity. 34(2): 72–73.

Dove, M. K., and N. S. Sweeney. Is inclusion for the gifted a bankrupt policy? 34(2): 60–63.

Draper, W. Turning challenge into opportunity. 34(4): 155.

Dutt-Doner, K. M., and R. Maddox. Implementing authentic assessment. 34(4): 135–37.

Goldsby, D. S., and B. Cozza. Using reflective journals in college education courses. 34(3): 112–13.

Guevara, J. See Poetter

Haberman, M. If I were starting out as a beginning teacher. 34(1): 39.

Hale, R. P. Developing teacher leaders. 34(3): 110–11.

Hamza, K. A time to learn. 34(2): 66–67.

Hansen, J. M. Performance-based tests improve student learning. 34(4): 124–28.

Harper, V., C. Nelson, and M. Mayfield. Transforming parent-teacher conferences. 34(1): 28–33.

Hatcher, R. E. See Conderman

Hinnant, H. A. Unplugging. 34(1): 17.

Hudson, M. B., and M. Q. Penta. Developing alternative assessment success. 34(4): 138–43.

Huskey, J. Males in elementary education. 34(2): 68–71.

Ikan, P. A. See Conderman

Ivers, K. S. See Barron

Johnson, D. D. See Von Hoff Johnson

Jones, B. See Poetter

Kanawati, D. Ends, means & technology. 34(1): 13.

Lawless, M. See Poetter

Littlefield, M. See Wenner

Lowry, M. Supporting adoption of innovations. 34(1): 10–13.

Maddox, R. See Dutt-Doner

Martin, M. On using the Internet. 34(1): 22–23.

Mayfield, M. See Harper

McLean, J. E. Teacher empowerment through action research. 34(1): 34–38.

McNergeny, R. F. See Von Hoff Johnson

Miller, D. See Poetter

Minzenmayer, B. Outside the classroom. 34(3): 101.

Mulroe, S. J. The second year of teaching. 34(2): 65.

Nelson, C. See Harper

O'Neill, M. Teaching life skills: A public health exercise. 34(4): 156–57.

Penta, M. Q. See Hudson

Poetter, T. S., and M. Lawless, with J. Guevara, B. Jones, D. Miller, G. Robbins, J. Runger, M. Schatz, and K. Swann. Our visit to Appalachia. 34(2): 74–77.

Rader, J. Preparing teachers for education software purchases. 34(1): 20–21.

Reitz, R. J. See Cooley

Richardson, R. C. Inclusion then and now. 34(2): 49–51.

Ringlaben, R. See Cooper

Robbins, G. See Poetter

Roellke, C. See Bray

Runger, J. See Poetter

Schatz, M. See Poetter

Setera, R. See Wenner

Simmons, B. J. The importance of being tested. 34(4): 129–31.

Studer, J. R. An American sensei. 34(3): 98–100.

Swann, K. See Poetter

Sweeney, N. S. See Dove

Tonnsen, S. Your first job interview: The basics. 34(4): 150–51.

Von Hoff Johnson, B., D. D. Johnson, and R. F. McNergeny. A multi-university Internet course. 34(1): 24–26.

Wallinger, L. M. Developing technology training for teachers. 34(1): 18–19.

Ward, M. S., and D. Worsham. Instruction on the move in a year-round school. 34(3): 89–91.

Watson, C. Instructional ideas in teaching in block schedules. 34(3): 94–98.

Weir, R. M., Jr. Preparing for inclusion. 34(2): 44–48.

Wenner G., R. Setera, and M. Littlefield. Visiting the many cities of first-year teaching. 34(3): 106–8.

Worsham, D. See Ward

Book Reviews

Integrating Computers into the Classroom: The Missing Key by E. O'Donnell. Lanham, Md.: The Scarecrow Press, 1996. Reviewed by E. P. Christmann. 34(1): 40.

Introduction to Special Education: The Inclusive Classroom by K. A. Waldron. Albany, N.Y.: Delmar, 1996. Reviewed by D. W. Anderson. 34(2): 78.

Research on Educational Innovations, 2d ed., by A. K. Ellis and J. T. Fouts. Larchmont, N.Y.: Eye on Education, 1997. Reviewed by B. S. Portin. 34(3): 199.

Technology across the Curriculum: Activities and Ideas by M. J. Bazeli and J. L. Heintz. Englewood, Colo.: Teacher Ideas, 1997. Reviewed by R. L. Aaron. 34(2): 79.

The Integrated Classroom: The Assessment Curriculum Link in Early Childhood Education by S. C. Wortham. Englewood, N.J.: Prentice-Hall, 1996. Reviewed by R. McMahon. 34(2): 79.

Subjects

Note: Page numbers in boldface indicate a chart, diagram, or figure.

accountability, in inclusion practices, 54–55

achievement tests, scores and effect of block schedules, 94

action research, 34–38; strategy, 37

activity-based teaching methods, 15

administration-preparation programs, teacher enhancement and, 110

administrators' roles, in acceptance of inclusion, 45; in implementing technology, 8–9

American Federation of Teachers, apprehensions about inclusion, 46

anti-tracking movement, and inclusion of gifted students, 61

Appalachian schools, 74–77

Appalachian State University, 74, 77

assessment, and inclusion, 78; communication as part of, 104; critical analyses of, 119; of journal writing, 112–13; of students for first-year teachers, 107; performances as, 97–98; strategies in math, 104; teachers' self-assessment, 107; within the learning-cycle model, 96

at-risk students, achievement and year-round education, 87; curriculum for, 76; in Appalachian schools, 76

Kappa Delta Pi Record, Volume 34 Index

Authors and Articles

Advocate for public education: Agnes E. Meyer. 34(2): 64.

Barron, A. E., and K. S. Ivers. New classrooms without walls. 34(4): 152–54.

Boone, W. J. Interactive distance education technology in classrooms. 34(1): 14–16.

Boyd, P.C., and S. B. Cooper. Communication in the mathematics classroom. 34(3): 102–5.

Bray, S., and C. Roellke. The evidence on year-round education. 34(3): 84–88.

Carroll, M. K. Motivating secondary teacher-preparation students. 34(3): 114–18.

Cizek, G. J. The assessment revolution's unfinished business. 34(4): 144–49.

Conderman, G. How are we practicing inclusion? 34(2): 52–55.

Conderman, G., R. E. Hatcher, and P. A. Ikan. Why student-led conferences work. 34(4): 132–34.

Cooley, V. E., and R. J. Reitz. Lessons learned in creating a program. 34(1): 4–9.

Cooper, M. J., and R. Ringlaben. Caring as an essential element for inclusion. 34(2): 56–59.

Cooper, S. B. See Boyd

Corbett, T. A year-round success story in Vincent. 34(3): 92–93.

Cozza, B. See Goldsby

Donaldson, E. R. Canadian diversity and continuity. 34(2): 72–73.

Dove, M. K., and N. S. Sweeney. Is inclusion for the gifted a bankrupt policy? 34(2): 60–63.

Draper, W. Turning challenge into opportunity. 34(4): 155.

Dutt-Doner, K. M., and R. Maddox. Implementing authentic assessment. 34(4): 135–37.

Goldsby, D. S., and B. Cozza. Using reflective journals in college education courses. 34(3): 112–13.

Guevara, J. See Poetter

Haberman, M. If I were starting out as a beginning teacher. 34(1): 39.

Hale, R. P. Developing teacher leaders. 34(3): 110–11.

Hamza, K. A time to learn. 34(2): 66–67.

Hansen, J. M. Performance-based tests improve student learning. 34(4): 124–28.

Harper, V., C. Nelson, and M. Mayfield. Transforming parent-teacher conferences. 34(1): 28–33.

Hatcher, R. E. See Conderman

Hinnant, H. A. Unplugging. 34(1): 17.

Hudson, M. B., and M. Q. Penta. Developing alternative assessment success. 34(4): 138–43.

Huskey, J. Males in elementary education. 34(2): 68–71.

Ikan, P. A. See Conderman

Ivers, K. S. See Barron

Johnson, D. D. See Von Hoff Johnson

Jones, B. See Poetter

Kanawati, D. Ends, means & technology. 34(1): 13.

Lawless, M. See Poetter

Littlefield, M. See Wenner

Lowry, M. Supporting adoption of innovations. 34(1): 10–13.

Maddox, R. See Dutt-Doner

Martin, M. On using the Internet. 34(1): 22–23.

Mayfield, M. See Harper

McLean, J. E. Teacher empowerment through action research. 34(1): 34–38.

McNergeny, R. F. See Von Hoff Johnson

Miller, D. See Poetter

Minzenmayer, B. Outside the classroom. 34(3): 101.

Mulroe, S. J. The second year of teaching. 34(2): 65.

Nelson, C. See Harper

O'Neill, M. Teaching life skills: A public health exercise. 34(4): 156–57.

Penta, M. Q. See Hudson

Poetter, T. S., and M. Lawless, with J. Guevara, B. Jones, D. Miller, G. Robbins, J. Runger, M. Schatz, and K. Swann. Our visit to Appalachia. 34(2): 74–77.

Rader, J. Preparing teachers for education software purchases. 34(1): 20–21.

Reitz, R. J. See Cooley

Richardson, R. C. Inclusion then and now. 34(2): 49–51.

Ringlaben, R. See Cooper

Robbins, G. See Poetter

Roellke, C. See Bray

Runger, J. See Poetter

Schatz, M. See Poetter

Setera, R. See Wenner

Simmons, B. J. The importance of being tested. 34(4): 129–31.

Studer, J. R. An American sensei. 34(3): 98–100.

Swann, K. See Poetter

Sweeney, N. S. See Dove

Tonnsen, S. Your first job interview: The basics. 34(4): 150–51.

Von Hoff Johnson, B., D. D. Johnson, and R. F. McNergeny. A multi-university Internet course. 34(1): 24–26.

Wallinger, L. M. Developing technology training for teachers. 34(1): 18–19.

Ward, M. S., and D. Worsham. Instruction on the move in a year-round school. 34(3): 89–91.

Watson, C. Instructional ideas in teaching in block schedules. 34(3): 94–98.

Weir, R. M., Jr. Preparing for inclusion. 34(2): 44–48.

Wenner G., R. Setera, and M. Littlefield. Visiting the many cities of first-year teaching. 34(3): 106–8.

Worsham, D. See Ward

Book Reviews

Integrating Computers into the Classroom: The Missing Key by E. O'Donnell. Lanham, Md.: The Scarecrow Press, 1996. Reviewed by E. P. Christmann. 34(1): 40.

Introduction to Special Education: The Inclusive Classroom by K. A. Waldron. Albany, N.Y.: Delmar, 1996. Reviewed by D. W. Anderson. 34(2): 78.

Research on Educational Innovations, 2d ed., by A. K. Ellis and J. T. Fouts. Larchmont, N.Y.: Eye on Education, 1997. Reviewed by B. S. Portin. 34(3): 199.

Technology across the Curriculum: Activities and Ideas by M. J. Bazeli and J. L. Heintz. Englewood, Colo.: Teacher Ideas, 1997. Reviewed by R. L. Aaron. 34(2): 79.

The Integrated Classroom: The Assessment Curriculum Link in Early Childhood Education by S. C. Wortham. Englewood, N.J.: Prentice-Hall, 1996. Reviewed by R. McMahon. 34(2): 79.

Subjects

Note: Page numbers in boldface indicate a chart, diagram, or figure.

accountability, in inclusion practices, 54–55

achievement tests, scores and effect of block schedules, 94

action research, 34–38; strategy, 37

activity-based teaching methods, 15

administration-preparation programs, teacher enhancement and, 110

administrators' roles, in acceptance of inclusion, 45; in implementing technology, 8–9

American Federation of Teachers, apprehensions about inclusion, 46

anti-tracking movement, and inclusion of gifted students, 61

Appalachian schools, 74–77

Appalachian State University, 74, 77

assessment, and inclusion, 78; communication as part of, 104; critical analyses of, 119; of journal writing, 112–13; of students for first-year teachers, 107; performances as, 97–98; strategies in math, 104; teachers' self-assessment, 107; within the learning-cycle model, 96

at-risk students, achievement and year-round education, 87; curriculum for, 76; in Appalachian schools, 76

autism, and inclusion, 56–59 beginning teachers, 106–8; and working in private sector, 39; assessment of students, 107; importance of diet and exercise, 39; necessity of mentors, 106; preparation time, 107; preparedness for teaching, 106; preparing for substitute teachers, 108; reflections on first year, 65, 106–8; relationships with parents, 107; self–assessment, 107; suggestions for second year, 65; teaching in urban school districts, 39; technology training, 39; volunteering, 39 block schedules, 84, 94–97 budgets (schools), 85–86; and technology, 9, 12, 18; in Japan, 99; in U.S., 99 bureaucracy in education, 66–67
Canadian educational system, 72–73
character education, 57–59
class size, in Japan, 99 classrooms, creating supportive environments, 102–5; discourse in, 103; effects of technology on, 10; importance of communication, 102; multi-university courses, 24–25; of the '90s, 6; parental involvement in, 32; sharing classrooms, 89–91; structure, and distance education, 14; successful adoption of innovation, 10–12; teachers' lack of control over, 34. See also action research collaboration, and action research, 38; and inclusion, 50, 78; school-university, technology training for teachers, 40 colleges. See universities communication, in classrooms, 102–5; with parents, 107 community and schools, and year-round education, 92–93; encouraging student involvement in community, 101; in Japan, 100
Computer Museum Guide to the Best Software for Kids, The, 21 computers, capabilities and choosing software, 20. See also evaluating hardware/software and technology in schools
continuing education, second-year teachers, 65 contracts, teachers', implementing year-round education, 87 cooperative learning, and importance of communication, 102–3; and successful inclusion, 50; critical analyses of, 119; teaching strategies and block schedules, 97 Council for Exceptional Children, apprehensions about inclusion, 46 course evaluations, distance education courses, 14 cultures, and Canadian schools, 72–73 curriculum, and year-round education, 86–87; benefits of distance education, 15; development, and inclusion, 48; for at-risk students, 76; in Canada, 73; in early childhood education, 79; incorporating technology into, 13, 18, 40; integrating reflective journal writing into, 112; state-mandated curriculum, and teacher decision-making power, 34
direct teaching strategy, and block scheduling, 95 discipline, decline in problems, 92 distance education, 14–16. See also technology in schools dropouts, decrease in, and year-round education, 87; in Canada, 73; in U.S. high schools, 66; in Japan, 99
early childhood education, 79
economics and education, effects on gifted education, 60–62. See also budgets (schools)
Education for All Handicapped Act (P.L. 94-142), 44, 49 education movements, anti-tracking movement, and inclusion of gifted students, 61; critical analyses of, 119; inclusion movement, 53 educational reform, critical analyses of, 119; teachers' resistance to, 94. See also reform educational research, critical analyses of, 119; effects of action research, 37 educational software. See software educators, and year-round education, 84; response to inclusion, 52; roles, 28 elementary school teachers, 68; and distance education, 15; imbalance among, 68–69
elementary schools, changes in learning strategies, 17
English as a Second Language students, 32 ethics, and action research, 35 evaluating hardware/software, computer capabilities, 20; Computer Museum Guide to the Best Software for Kids, The, 21; Learning Services Web site, 21; matching with instructional goals, 20–21; "Parent's Guide to Software '97" Web site, 21; technology support-staff responsibilities, 19 extracurricular activities, effects of year-round education, 93 field trips, benefits of distance education, 15
first-year teachers, 106–8. See also beginning teachers
Gateways Program, 45
gifted students, 60–63
goals, instructional, and choosing software, 20
hardware (computers). See evaluating hardware/software
high schools, U.S. dropout rate, 66
homework, in Japan, 99 inclusion, accountability, 54–55; advantages/disadvantages, 78; advocates' arguments for, 52–53; and A Nation at Risk, 49; and collaboration, 50, 78; and cooperative learning, 50; and curriculum, 48, 54; and labeling students, 46; and learning strategies, 78; and peer acceptance, 53–54; and placement decisions, 54; and regular education students, 56–59; and special education, 49; and staff development, 48; as a civil rights issue, 52; as a deficit model, 62; assessment strategies, 78; assisting students in adjusting, 54; basic assumptions about, 53; concerns about, 46, 50–51; definition, 45; different models of, 52; discussing in teacher education programs, 46; Education for All Handicapped Act (P.L. 94-142), 44, 49; educators' response to, 52; effects on, movement, 49–50; establishing a task force, 47–48; guidelines for responsible, 54–55; implementing, 48; importance of working with parents, 46–47; Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, 49; moving towards (guidelines), 45–46; necessity of orientation programs, 47; of gifted students, 60–63; parents' attitudes toward, 56–57; parents' rights and, 54; politicians' response to inclusion, 52; preparing teachers, 46; principals' role in acceptance of, 45; reducing costs of, 44; students' roles in successful, 47; students with severe disabilities, 56–59; success of, 50. See also students with disabilities
Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), 44, 49 instructional time, and year-round education, 86–87, U.S. schools vs. other countries, 84 integrated thematic units, teaching strategies and block schedules, 96 interdisciplinary teaching, multi-university courses, 24
Internet, 19, 22–24, 26
Japanese educational system, 98–100 journal writing, 112–13; as assessment, 104; benefits, 112; in math classes, 104.
languages, number taught in Canada, 72 leadership; from principals in implementing technology, 8–9; traits in teachers, 110–11 learning, effect of technology on, 17; effects of Internet on, 22 learning centers, 96–97
learning conversations, 30–33
Learning Services Web site, 21 learning strategies, and inclusion, 78; cooperative learning, and importance of communication, 102–3, and successful inclusion, 50; effect of block scheduling on, 94; effects of standardized tests, 36–37; in Canada, 73; in math, 104; teachers, 73 learning styles, and freedom to learn, 101; critical analyses of, 119; of gifted students, 61–63 learning-cycle model, 95–96
lesson-design model (of teaching), 94–95 listening, in parent-teacher conferences, 31 literacy, U.S. rate, 66
male teachers in elementary education, 68–71; educators perceived reasons for lack of, 69; non-educators' perceived roles of, 70
mathematics, 102–5; journal writing in class, 104; NCTM Curriculum and Evaluation Standards for School Mathematics, 102 mentors, necessity of, first year, 106
Meyer, Agnes E., 64 minorities, in Canada, 72; parent/teacher communication, 28; participation in parent-teacher conferences, 32; teachers' disregard for culture, 29 motivation, benefits of distance education, 15 multi-track year-round education, 85–86, 89–91
multi-university courses, 24–25
multiculturalism, in Canada, 72–73
Nation at Risk, A, effect on inclusion, 49
National Education Commission on Time and Learning, 84

nine-month school calendar, 84–86; scheduling conflicts with year-round education, 93 overcrowding in schools, 86, 89–91 parent-teacher conferences, 28–33 parental involvement, and year-round education, 93; in classrooms, 32; in Japan, 99; in parent-teacher conferences, 31; increase in, 93; participation in inclusion decisions, 54 parents, 46–47; and inclusion, 52, 54, 56–57; communicating with, over the Internet, 22; communication with teachers, 31, 107; input on computer software, 21; support of year-round education, 84, 88
"Parent's Guide to Software '97" Web site, 21
peer pressure, and students with disabilities, 57–58 policymakers, assumptions about teachers' technology skills, 18; support of year-round education, 84 politics and education, challenges of action research, 37–38; in Canada, 72; inclusion of gifted students, 60; politicians' response to inclusion, 52 preservice teachers, acceptance of distance education, 14 principals, and teacher leaders, 110–11; as leaders in implementing technology, 8–9; roles, in acceptance of inclusion, 45, in introducing technology in schools, 6, 8 private schools, increase in gifted student enrollment, 61 professionalism in teaching, 34, 73 public schools, access to students with disabilities, 44; decrease in gifted student enrollment, 61; Meyer's (Agnes E.) view of, 64 reform, and gifted-student inclusion, 61; and nine-month school calendar, 84; critical analyses of, 119; special education, 44–45, 47–48; teachers' resistance to, 94 religion and education, in Canada, 72 role models, lack of, and number of male teachers, 68–70 rural schools, 74–77
salaries, and lack of male teachers, 69
school culture, and technology support staff, 5–6, 9 school districts, goals, and implementing technology, 6–7; urban schools and beginning teachers, 39; use of distance education, 14 school structure, and teacher preparation, 114-15; year-round education, 84–85 school-university collaboration, technology training for teachers, 40 science, distance education courses, 14; teaching strategies and block schedules, 95–96 second-year teachers, suggestions for, 65 secondary education teachers, 114–17
single-track year-round education, 85–86
social studies, 95–96
software, 19–21; Computer Museum Guide to the Best Software for Kids, The, 21; Learning Services Web site, 21; "Parent's Guide to Software '97" Web site, 21 special education, 44–45, 47–49. See also inclusion and students with disabilities
staff development, action research as, 34; and inclusion, 48; and technology in schools, 7; and year-round education, 87; encouraging teacher leaders, 111; in Canada, 73; uses for the Internet, 22 standardized tests, and changes in teaching/learning strategies, 36–37 state-mandated curriculum, teacher decision-making power, 34 stereotypes, of male teachers, 69–70, 71 student achievement, and inclusion of gifted students, 62; and types of textbooks used, 37; and year-round education, 87, 92; in Canada, 73
student motivation, benefits of distance education, 15 student/teacher relationships, benefits/drawbacks of distance education, 15; classroom discourse, 103 students, and inclusion, 47, 57–59; assessing students' readiness for technology, 12; at-risk, 76, 87; attitudes, 26, 87; communicating with, over the Internet, 22; encouraging involvement in community activities, 101; imposing personal expectations on, 28–29; teachers' disregard for culture/customs, 29 students with disabilities, access to public schools, 44; and benefits of distance education, 15; assisting in the transition to inclusion, 54; challenging curriculum for, 54; Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, 44, 49; peer acceptance, 53–54; preparing for life, 44; severe disabilities and inclusion, 56–59; treatment of, in 1975, 49 teacher education, effects of action research, 37 teacher education programs, teaching strategies, 114–17; preparing for inclusion, 46; requirements, 114; use of sexist language in, 70 teachers, and action research, 34–35, 38; and distance education, 14–15; and parents, 28–31; and peers, 110; and technology, 5, 8, 10–12; and year-round education, 87, 92; benefits of block scheduling, 94; common uses of Internet, 22; decision-making power, 34, 38; early childhood education, 79; enrolling in administrator-preparation programs, 110; ethical obligations of, 67; improved teacher/student attitudes, 87; in Canada, 73; in Japan, 99–100; involvement in activities outside classrooms, 110; involvement in classroom research, 34; learning strategies of, 73; open-door policy for, 76; perceived reasons for gender imbalance, 68–69; preparation, 46, 106, 115; sharing knowledge with peers, 110; suggestions for second-year teachers, 65; traits for the 21st century, 110–11. See also elementary school teachers and male elementary school teachers teachers' roles, 67; as agents of institutions, 28; as leaders, 110–11; as trainers for new technology, 7–8; encouraging students involvement in community, 101; in implementing technology, 8–9, 18
teaching, in Japan, 99–100 teaching materials, 85, 90–91
teaching strategies, 94, 114–17; activity-based, 15; and gifted students, 62; and inclusion, 48, 78; and proficiency on Internet, 22; and supportive classroom environment, 103; cooperative learning, 97; direct teaching, 95; distance education courses, 14; effect of block scheduling on, 94; effect of school structure on, 114–15; effects of standardized tests on, 36–37; encouraging classroom discourse, 103; encouraging students' involvement in community, 101; in early childhood education, 79; in secondary education, 114–15; in teacher education programs, 114–16; integrated thematic units, 96; learning centers, 96–97; learning-cycle model, 95–96; lesson-design model, 94–95; multi-university courses, 24–25 ; teachers' lack of control over, 34; technology in classrooms, 6, 11 technical support staff, cost considerations, 18; necessity of, 5–7; personality traits of 5–6, 9; responsibility to choose hardware/software, 19 technology in schools, administrators' roles in implementing, 8; and goals, 6–7, 15–16; and teachers', 5–12, 15, 18; and support staff, 5–7, 9; and vendors, 6; budget considerations, 9, 12, 18; classroom structure, 14; considerations before implementing, 16, 23; effect of learning on, 17; effects on classroom practices, 10; in Appalachia, 76–77; incorporating into curriculum, 18, 40; introducing, 19; obsolescence, 8–9, 19; principals' roles in implementing, 6, 8–9; problems with equipment, 15; reliance upon, 13; students' attitudes toward, 26; successful implementation of, 6; technological literacy, 13; technology-related problems, 8–9; Westfield's "Smart Campus" infrastructure, 4–5. See also evaluating hardware/software technology training for teachers, 18–19; considerations, 19; Internet training, 22–23; multi-university courses, 26; necessity of, 40 textbooks, and inclusion of gifted students, 62; and student achievement, 37; in Japan, 99; outdated, 62
Trinity University, 74, 77. See also rural schools
21st century, encouraging teacher leaders, 111; identifying teacher leaders; 110–11, leaders in, 110, student success in, 13; teacher traits in, 110; teachers, 110–11 universities, college credits over the Internet, 22; multi-university courses, 24–26 university-school collaboration, 40 urban schools, and beginning teachers, 39 vacation time, year-round education, 84
Vocational and Rehabilitation Act of 1973, 49
volunteering, 39, 65
Web sites, for educators, 23; Learning Services Web site, 21; "Parent's Guide to Software '97" Web site, 21; Westfield Washington Schools, 4–5. See also technology in schools writing, 104, 112–13; in math classes, 104
year-round education, 84–88, 90, 92–93